

Cristal Mining has applied for an Exploration Licence Application to the north of Harrow in south-west Victoria.

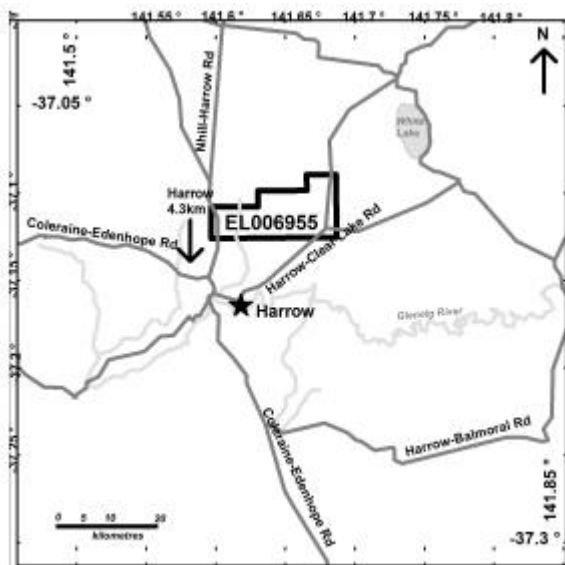

April 2019

The Cristal Mining Exploration team has applied for an Exploration Licence Application to the north of Harrow in south-west Victoria. This area has proven to host mineral sand deposits in the past and as such it is considered prospective for further exploration.

The work program would involve a review of historical data and field reconnaissance, on ground activities would involve a small drilling program across several traverses. The drilling would then be rehabilitated.

On ground activities will only be undertaken after consultation and agreement with affected landowners. The broader community will be kept informed of activities via information memoranda and/or public notice as deemed necessary through initial consultations with identified community members.

The work proposed is considered to be low impact exploration with minimal (if any) impact to the community or environment.

Location of the exploration licence application